

NEWSBRIEFS

Condor flock invades CA home

“The Birds” in Alfred Hitchcock’s movie with the same name were pretty scary when they flocked and attacked the hapless heroine. So, you can imagine how scared Cinda Mickols, who lives in Tehachapi, CA, was when a flock of Giant California condors targeted her home recently. These were no scrawny crows; these condors can have a wingspan of almost ten feet and weigh as much as 23 pounds. And, Cinda can tell you it’s a very, very scary – and messy – affair to be under attack by them; her home was their target recently and nearly trashed the place. Her daughter Tweeted photos of the assault and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service responded suggesting fighting back by shouting, loud clapping and spraying them with water.

– John Grimaldi

The inheritance

Eight-year-old Lulu of Nashville, TN was 88-year-old Bill Dorris’ beneficiary when he passed away, leaving her $5 million. The lucky dog – that’s right, Lulu is a border collie – was, indeed, Dorris’ best friend, says Martha Burton. Dorris did a lot of traveling during his lifetime and Burton looked after the pup when he was away and so he designated her in his will to be the dog’s care giver. A conservator, who is managing Dorris’ estate reimburses her for the costs of Lulu’s care. It is very unlikely that those costs could possibly use up the dog’s inheritance although Ms. Burton jokingly told a reporter that she’d like to try.

– John Grimaldi

A rare bloom, indeed

It’s not often that one gets the opportunity to see an amorphophallus titanum in bloom and so it attracted a crowd in Alameda, CA when a corpus flower was on show there recently. The extremely rare plant blooms once every ten years or so and is not so easy to find. It’s said that there are only about 1,000 of them that can be found in the wild. This particular corpus flower plant belongs to a local gardener, Solomon Leyva, who put it on display for visitors to see and smell. They don’t call it the corpus plant for nothing.

– John Grimaldi

All education, good or bad, is a delayed-action bomb assembled in classrooms for explosion at a later time.

– Quips & Quotes

Dr. Maria Fuentes

– Photo courtesy Canutillo ISD

Fuentes is new PHEM for Canutillo ISD

By Liza M. Rodriguez
Special to the Courier

CANUTILLO – Canutillo Independent School District has appointed Dr. Maria Fuentes as the new Public Health Emergency Manager (PHEM).

As the new PHEM, Dr. Fuentes is committed to provide CISD students, staff and community with updated evidence-based information following the local, state and national health guidelines to ensure a safe learning experience for all our students. Currently, all COVID-19 protocols for returning back to school for in-person learning are the main priority to ensure a positive experience for all staff and students as well as to provide the confidence the community needs.

“I’m honored to be joining the Canutillo ISD team and look forward to the challenges and opportunities ahead as the Public Health Emergency Manager,” said Fuentes.

Fuentes is a U.S. ECFMG (Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates) Certified M.D. and graduated with a Master in Public Health from The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) in 2018. Her research studies have focused on public health interventions and infectious diseases that affect the health of the community of El Paso, including antibiotic-resistant bacteria, environmental health and now COVID-19.

See FUENTES, Page 7

San Elizario ISD appoints assistant principals

By Jeannie Meza-Chavez
Special to the Courier

SAN ELIZARIO – The San Elizario Independent School District (SEISD) has appointed two new assistant principals.

Ms. Ana Solis will serve at San Elizario High School and Ms. Sandra Rico will serve at Sambrano Elementary School.

Rico began her educational career 15 years ago as an elementary teacher at Johnson Elementary School in the El Paso Independent School District (EPISD). Her experience as a teacher includes serving as a dual language teacher at Crockett Elementary School in EPISD. Other service includes her work as an Active Learning Leader and most recently as the Instructional Officer for Bilingual Education in SEISD. Rico holds a Bachelor’s of Interdisciplinary Studies from the University of Texas at El Paso and a Masters of Education in Educational Leadership. “Ms. Rico comes with an extensive Early Childhood background having taught Kindergarten through second grade for 11 years. She will be a true asset to our K-2nd graders at

Sandra Rico

Ana Solis

– Photos courtesy San Elizario ISD

Sambrano Elementary,” said Principal Ernesto Seigel.

Solis started her educational experience as resources teacher at Blanton Elementary School in the Austin Independent School District. She also served as a PPCD (Preschool Program for Children with Disabilities) Teacher in the Grapevine Consolidated Independent School District and subsequently a Lead PPCD Teacher in EPISD in the Special Education Department. Her career also includes being an Instructional Support Specialist, a Summer Curriculum Writer, and a Special Education Instructional Coach at Bowie High School in EPISD. She holds a Bachelor’s degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) and a Master in Education in Curriculum and Instruction also from UTA. “We are very excited to have Ms. Ana Solis join the SEHS family; she brings a wealth of knowledge and has a background in instructional coaching and special education. We know she will support classroom teachers and have a positive impact on student learning,” Principal April Marioni said.

Best friends, Arreola, Lerma, head to different colleges

By Adriana Candelaria
Special to the Courier

Dasseny Arreola and Marissa Lerma have been inseparable. Even during their last moments as high school seniors, the girls sat next to each other at graduation. Wearing white caps and gowns, the girls celebrated their top ranks as Class of 2021’s valedictorian and salutatorian.

“I never thought it was a competition

ANTHONY – Since elementary school,

Wearing white caps and gowns, the girls

See FRIENDS, Page 5

Trump trumps Biden

described the participants this way: “These were peaceful people; these were great people.”

Now, I’m as guilty as the rest of my reporter tribe in that I give former President Donald Trump far too much attention and what’s his name far too little. That interview snippet demonstrates all too well what Trump knows: “There’s no such thing as bad publicity.” The guy has had a lifetime of bad publicity. And he became president of the United States.

But in the media, that repulsiveness trumps Joe Biden’s competence every time. Ho hum. This is particularly true because Trump never ceases to show his brazenness, starting and ending with the “big lie” that he actually won the 2020 presidential election when he decisively lost. That whopper resulted in a mob going wild at the Capitol, where several died, and likely hundreds of his base will serve serious prison time for participating.

Meanwhile, Uncle Joe just rolls along, rescuing us from a pandemic and righting all the wrongs that Trump somehow got the millions of people in his base to blindly accept, probably because he pushed their xenophobia buttons. But Joe gets the short end of the stick.

Why? A pro-Biden PAC memorandum argues, “Democrats must communicate much more aggressively.” That’s not it. Democrats could hold their breath until they turn blue and they still wouldn’t match the red-faced Donald Trump, who never heard a fact that he couldn’t turn into fiction. Match that up against good old man river Joe Biden, who just keeps rolling along as he has for an eternity in Washington, which is what he brags about.

Experience is a wonderful thing. It’s what gets the job done in the long run, but that’s not the point. It’s a long run, a tortoise-and-the-hare kinda thing. There’s no sparkle compared with the rush that comes from brash buffoonery. And those of us in media are attracted to brash buffoonery.

There is a danger in being the guy who relies on the message of steadiness. Because if something goes dreadfully wrong – say, after the decision to withdraw from Afghanistan, the Taliban takes over with little resistance (and that’s a “when” not an “if”), there will be second-guessers crawling out of the woodwork; Trump and others loudly proclaiming, “I told you so,” no matter what they actually said – then your conclusion will be thrown in your face. The same reaction will happen the next time you utter one of your world-famous gaffes, even if it’s something trivial. Count on everyone, and I mean everyone, musing publicly about how addled you are, even though your main enemy was addled from the day he was born.

And what do you call your Republican adversaries? They are either wild conspiracy theorists or calculated political robots that exploit the fact that their million-person base is made up of citizens whose befuddlement is targeted because they don’t know what to believe anymore. That’s because “lying politician” is a redundancy.

So that’s our dilemma. I’m asking for sympathy for us soulless souls in the media. We’d love to cover substance and issues and stuff like that, but we’d be talking to ourselves. Besides, our bosses, who answer to money-grubbing corporations, watch ratings and circulation figures very nervously and will get rid of us relics and go for the young sensation, who’s cheaper anyway.

So those of us who can comply, and learn what the hell search engine optimization is, comprehend very quickly that Donald Trump drives traffic, and Joe Biden does not. So blame it all on the tyranny of algorithms. And us.

(c) 2021 Bob Franken.
Distributed by King Features
Syndicate, Inc.

When talking to FOX News Sunday about the deadly Jan. 6 U.S. Capitol invasion, former President Donald Trump

PUBLIC NOTICE / AVISO AL PUBLICO Canutillo Independent School District 2021-2022 Meal Policy

National School Lunch Program / School Breakfast Program

The Canutillo Independent School District will provide free meals to students enrolled in the districts at no charge, under the Community Eligibility Provision Program, regardless of income, through the academic year of 2021-2022.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture prohibits discrimination against its customers, employees, and applicants for employment on the bases of race, color, national origin, age, disability, sex, gender identity, religion, reprisal, and where applicable, political beliefs, marital status, familial or parental status, sexual orientation, or all or part of an individual’s income is derived from any public assistance program, or protected genetic information in employment or in any program or activity conducted or funded by the Department. (Not all prohibited bases will apply to all programs and/or employment activities.)

If you wish to file a Civil Rights program complaint of discrimination, complete the USDA Program Discrimination Complaint Form, found online at http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_cust.html, or at any USDA office, or call (866) 632-9992 to request the form. You may also write a letter containing all of the information requested in the form. Send your completed complaint form or letter to us by mail at U.S. Department of Agriculture, Director, Office of Adjudication, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, by fax (202) 690-7442 or email at program.intake@usda.gov.

Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or have speech disabilities may contact USDA through the Federal Relay Service at (800) 877-8339; or (800) 845-6136 (Spanish).

USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

Política sobre Alimentos para 2021-2022 del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Canutillo Programa Nacional de Comidas en las Escuelas

El Distrito Escolar Independiente de Canutillo proporcionará alimentos a todos los estudiantes inscritos en el distrito sin costo alguno, durante todo el ciclo escolar 2021-2022 sin importar el ingreso familiar, bajo el programa Community Eligibility Provision.

El Departamento de Agricultura de los Estados Unidos (por sus siglas en inglés “USDA”) prohíbe la discriminación contra sus clientes, empleados y solicitantes de empleo por raza, color, origen nacional, edad, discapacidad, sexo, identidad de género, religión, represalias y, según corresponda, convicciones políticas, estado civil, estado familiar o paternal, orientación sexual, o si los ingresos de una persona provienen en su totalidad o en parte de un programa de asistencia pública, o información genética protegida de empleo o de cualquier programa o actividad realizada o financiada por el Departamento. (No todos los criterios prohibidos se aplicarán a todos los programas y/o actividades laborales).

Si desea presentar una queja por discriminación del programa de Derechos Civiles, complete el USDA Program Discrimination Complaint Form (formulario de quejas por discriminación del programa del USDA), que puede encontrar en internet en http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_cust.html, o en cualquier oficina del USDA, o llame al (866) 632-9992 para solicitar el formulario. También puede escribir una carta con toda la información solicitada en el formulario. Envíenos su formulario de queja completo o carta por correo postal a U.S. Department of Agriculture, Director, Office of Adjudication, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, por fax al (202) 690-7442 o por correo electrónico a program.intake@usda.gov.

Las personas con dificultades auditivas, o con discapacidad del habla pueden contactar al USDA por medio del Federal Relay Service (Servicio federal de transmisión) al (800) 877-8339 o (800) 845-6136 (en español).

El USDA es un proveedor y empleador que ofrece igualdad de oportunidades.

WTCC: 07-29-21

PUBLISHED:
Published each Thursday (minimum 50 issues) by Homesteader News, Inc. Office open Monday through Thursday.

COPYRIGHT:
Entire contents © 2021 Homesteader News, Inc. Individual authors retain all rights. Pictures, drawings and written material appearing in the West Texas County Courier may not be used or reproduced without written permission of Homesteader News, Inc.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:
Letters must not be more than 250 words in length. They should be dated, must be signed and have an address and daytime phone number. Only the name and city will be printed with the letter. The West Texas County Courier reserves the right to edit or reject letters to the editor or other submitted material it considers inappropriate.

AD DEADLINE:
Friday 4 p.m. for the next Thursday.

CLASSIFIED RATES
$15 for 25 words, $20 for 40 words. Ad must be in writing and pre-paid. The West Texas County Courier reserves the right not to publish advertising it considers inappropriate.

DISPLAY RATES:
Open rate — $30 per column inch. Call for more information or to set an appointment. The West Texas County Courier reserves the right not to publish advertising it considers inappropriate.

MAIL SUBSCRIPTIONS:
Minimum 50 issues for $50. Delivery via 1st class mail.

MAIL:
15344 Werling Ct.
Horizon City, TX 79928

Phone: 852-3235

E-mail: wtcc@wtcc.com
Website: wtcc.com

Publisher
Rick Shrum

Contributors
Alfredo Vasquez
Steve Escajeda

Homesteader
Est. 1973
News, Inc.

Joe Biden's Afghan withdrawal folly

Barely a day passes without additional news of Taliban gains in Afghanistan.

Perhaps the Afghan government and its forces will prove more resilient than many expect, but if the country continues its slide toward chaos or, worse, the Taliban rapidly take Kabul, President Joe Biden's decision to withdraw a residual U.S. force will look like an amateurish, unforced error by a man who prides himself on his foreign policy experience and acumen.

With his top military leadership opposed and credible warnings that Kabul could fall within months after a withdrawal, Biden went ahead with it anyway on the basis of what an aide has called "his gut."

So far, indications are that the president would have been better off heeding his military advisers than his viscera.

The Afghan war has, of course, stretched on for two decades and become a holding action satisfying to no one. But the cost to the U.S. of sustaining 3,500 troops in the country without losing anyone in combat for more than a year hasn't been high compared with the entirely plausible downside of Islamist extremists allied with al-Qaeda sweeping to power again in Afghanistan.

The desire to pull out of Afghanistan has been an area of rare Biden-Trump agreement. Then-President Donald Trump's foolhardy ceasefire deal with the Taliban in February 2020 set the predicate for Biden's withdrawal. It would have taken some determination for Biden to reverse the U.S. promise in that deal to withdraw its forces by May 2021, although the Taliban's transparent bad faith provided plenty of occasion for it.

Biden says not to worry. The U.S. will continue to provide "over the horizon" support, i.e., from a distance, for the Afghan government.

This is likely a pipe dream, and nothing about Biden's poorly thought-out drawdown lends any more credibility to it.

The CIA has been struggling to figure out how to maintain intelligence-gathering capabilities in Afghanistan. There will be no targets to strike from "over the horizon" if we don't have the assets on the ground to find them.

Ideally, the U.S. would locate some other base next door to Afghanistan, but there are no good options in the neighborhood.

Conducting operations from the Persian Gulf eight hours away isn't much of a substitute.

In congressional testimony, Gen. Kenneth McKenzie, the head of Central Command, said the long-distance missions would be "extremely difficult to do," but "not impossible."

The U.S. withdrawal has had other troubling loose ends.

The contractors who have worked with the Afghan Air Force to maintain its planes are leaving, too, potentially stripping Afghan forces of air support.

The fate of the Afghans who have assisted U.S. forces is uncertain, although under political pressure here at home, Biden has committed to getting them out.

Biden wants to provide $3 billion in security assistance to the Afghans, but who will do the training with that money?

The allies are leaving, with the administration anxious to get the Turks to stay to secure Kabul International Airport, without which we won't be able to maintain our embassy.

As the bad news has piled up, the Biden administration has tried to provide reassuring signals. But are the Afghans, and the Taliban, not supposed to notice that nearly all of his forces have already withdrawn?

One justification for leaving is that it will free up resources for us to concentrate on the growing threat from China. It's not as though the 3,000 ground troops are going to relocate to East Asia, though, and make a difference in the balance of power there. On top of this, if there is an unraveling in Afghanistan, controlling the fallout will become a consuming issue for the U.S. military.

Biden has gotten his drawdown. Now, he may reap the whirlwind.

Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review. (c) 2021 by King Features Synd., Inc.

Write stuff

Editor:

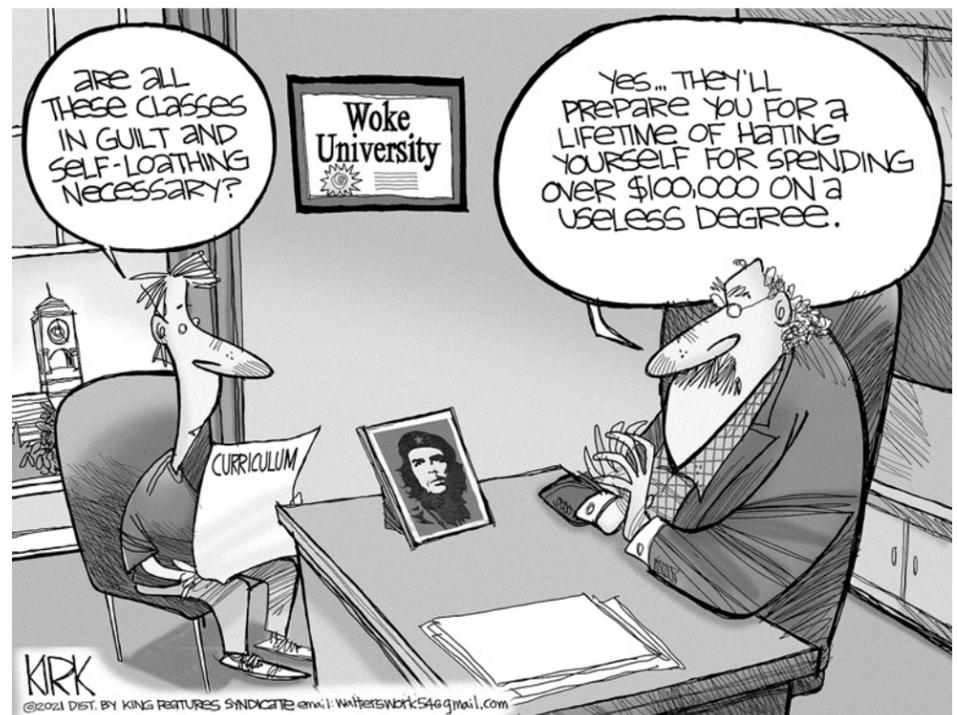

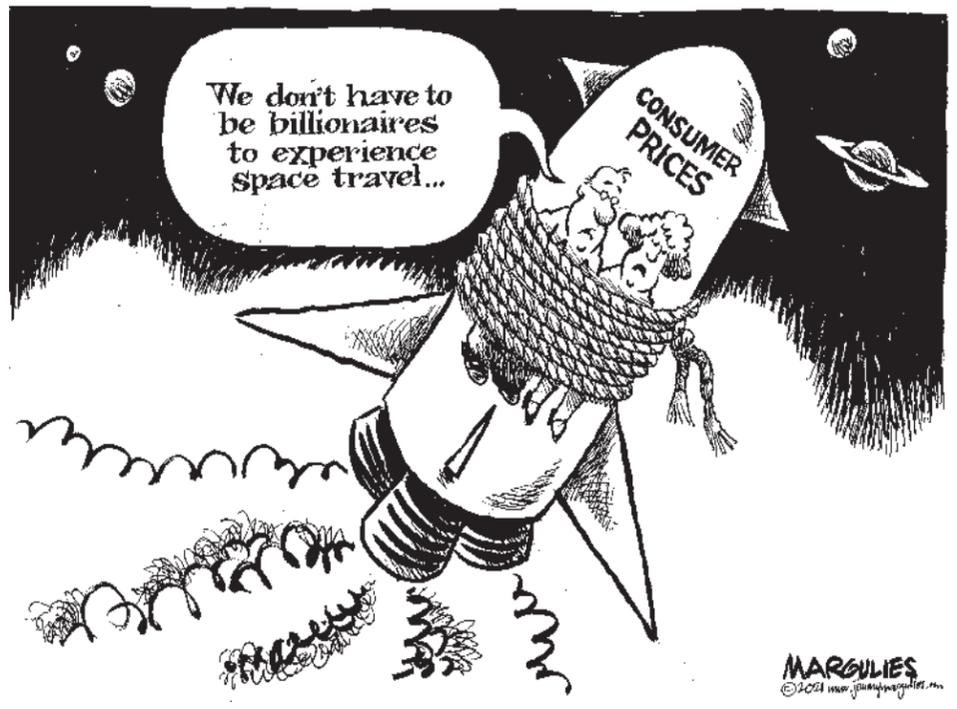

I am a concerned property owner in the Canutillo ISD district. As of 2004, Canutillo has passed three bonds. These bonds have cost the community an exorbitant amount of money of which we STILL OWE $85 million dollars. We are overwhelmed with the second-highest property taxes in the STATE of TEXAS. Canutillo property taxes are higher than Dallas, Houston, Austin, and San Antonio. In fact, our property taxes are higher than EPISD, SISD, YISD, and every district in the entire El Paso city and county.

How can a district that only has TEN schools and services a total of 6,042 students charge the highest property tax of all the districts? EPISD has 89 schools and services 58,000 students. YISD has 72 schools and services 40,400 students. SISD has 49 schools and services 47,000 students. Their overhead costs are much higher than Canutillo and yet Canutillo ISD charges the most!

This November Canutillo will be holding a special election to hike our taxes again. We cannot afford another bond of $187.5 million dollars while still owing for the three previous bonds. In a healthy community, we work together to build a better life for our children. These property taxes are hurting our community not building our community.

— Elizabeth Perez
Canutillo

Public Notice

Canutillo Independent School District

Notice of Non-Discrimination in Career and Technical Education Programs

Canutillo Independent School District offers Career and Technical Education programs in Arts, A/V Technology and Communications; Agriculture Science Technology; Business Management and Administration; Exploring Careers; Education and Training; Career Preparation; Health Science; Law, Public Safety, Corrections, and Security; Cyber Security; Computer Science; Graphic Design; Hospitality and Tourism; Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM); Biomedical Science Human Services and Robotics. Admission to these programs is based on career counseling, interests and aptitudes, age appropriateness, eligibility, and class space availability.

It is the policy of Canutillo Independent School District not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex or handicap in its vocational programs, services or activities as required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972; and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended.

It is the policy of Canutillo Independent School District not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, or disability in its employment practices as required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972; the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, as amended; and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended.

Canutillo Independent School District will take steps to assure that lack of English language skills will not be a barrier to admission and participation in all educational and Career and Technical Education programs.

For information about your rights or grievance procedures, contact the Title IX Coordinator, Martha Carrasco, (915) 877-7423, mcarrasco@canutillo-isd.org and/or the Section 504 Coordinator, Cary Chambers, (915) 877-7449, cchambers@canutillo-isd.org, at 7965 Artcraft Road, El Paso, Texas 79932.

Aviso al Público

Notificación de No Discriminación en los Programas Educativos de Carreras Técnicas y Vocacional

El Distrito Escolar Independiente de Canutillo ofrece programas de Educación en Carreras Técnicas y Vocacionales en las siguientes ramas: artes; tecnología y comunicación arte y visual, ciencias en tecnología agrónoma, administración y gestión empresarial; exploración de profesiones; educación y entrenamiento; ciencias de salud; estudios en leyes, seguridad pública y correccionales; seguridad cibernética; ciencias de la computación; diseño gráfico hospitalidad y turismo; ciencia, tecnología, ingeniería y matemáticas (STEM, por sus siglas en inglés); ciencia biomédica; y servicios humanos y robótica.

Es la política del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Canutillo el no discriminar la participación en estos programas por motivos de raza, color de piel, nacionalidad, género, discapacidad o edad en los programas, servicios o actividades vocacionales, tal como lo requieren el Título VI de la Ley de Derechos Civiles de 1964, según enmienda; el Título IX de las Enmiendas en la Educación, de 1972, y la Sección 504 de la Ley de Rehabilitación de 1973, según enmienda.

El Distrito Escolar Independiente de Canutillo tomará las medidas necesarias para asegurar que la falta de habilidad en el uso del inglés no sea un obstáculo para la admisión y participación en todos los programas educativos y Educativos de Carrera y Técnicas y Vocacionales.

Para información sobre sus derechos o procedimientos para quejas, comuníquese con el Coordinador del Título IX, Martha Carrasco, al P.O. Box 100, Canutillo, Texas 79835, teléfono (915) 877-7423, correo electrónico: mcarrasco@canutillo-isd.org, o el Coordinador de la Sección 504, Cary Chambers, teléfono (915) 877-7449, correo electrónico: cchambers@canutillo-isd.org, al 7965 Artcraft Road, El Paso, Texas 79932.

WTCC: 07-29-21

www.wtxcc.com • www.wtxcc.com • www.wtxcc.com • www.wtxcc.com • www.wtxcc.com

6	1	7	5	3	2	4	9	8
8	9	4	6	7	1	2	3	5
3	5	2	8	4	9	1	6	7
5	2	1	3	6	7	9	8	4
4	7	8	2	9	5	6	1	3
9	3	6	4	1	8	7	5	2
1	4	5	9	2	3	8	7	6
7	6	3	1	8	4	5	2	9
2	8	9	7	5	6	3	4	1

		W	I	C	K
		E		A
		B	U	N
		B		T				S
		R	E	C	O	U	P
C	L	A	D					E
		B			N	O	W
	W	I	N	C	E		E
	D			B	O	D	E

CryptoQuip Answer

If a bear were allowed to prepare coffee or tea, could you then say he was bruin?

By Lucie Winborne

• “Bonobo,” the common name for apes, was a typo. Researchers are said to have first found the animals in the town of Bolobo, Zaire, but misspelled the town’s name as “Bonobo” on the crate in which one was shipped, and the error stuck.

• Are you a fan of coffee breaks? Then you’ll want to head to Stoughton, Wisconsin, for their annual Coffee Break Festival, featuring coffee tastings, “brew-offs” and – a seriously – a bean-spitting contests. Next one’s in August.

• The world’s largest padlock measures an impressive 56.8 inches tall, 41.3 inches wide, and 10.2 inches deep, and weighs in at 916 pounds. Sorry, we don’t know what it was built to protect...

• One of the earliest known vacuum cleaners was so large that it had to be hauled via a horse-drawn carriage. Giant hoses were inserted into customers’ windows while a gas-powered motor sucked dirt into a glass container for the shock and awe of onlookers.

• You can thank the American armed forces for the first McDonald’s Drive Thru, which made its debut in Sierra Vista, Arizona, near the Fort Huachuca military installation. Rules prohibited soldiers from wearing their uniforms in public, and no one wanted to switch to civvies just to grab a burger, so restaurant manager David Rich cut a hole in the wall, allowing them to pick up their orders without leaving their vehicles. Unsurprisingly, the idea quickly caught on with the general public.

• The next time someone tells you they’re sweating like a pig, they’re actually lying (though, we’re sure, unintentionally!): Pigs are born without sweat glands, hence the need for a nice mud puddle to cool off in.

Thought for the Day: “The beauty of nature has been one of the great inspirations of my life.”
– Jim Henson

(c) 2021 King Features Synd., Inc.

Moments in time
THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On July 26, 1948, President Harry Truman signs Executive Order 9981, banning discrimination in the military. It ended a long-standing practice of segregating Black soldiers and relegating them to more menial jobs. African Americans had been serving in the U.S. military since the Revolutionary War.

• On July 27, 1996, in Atlanta, the XXVI Summer Olympiad is disrupted by the explosion of a nail-laden pipe bomb in Centennial Olympic Park. Police were warned of the bombing in advance, it exploded before the anonymous caller said it would. Attention eventually turned to Eric Robert Rudolph, who was captured in 2003 after hiding in the mountains for five years.

• On July 28, 1978, “National Lampoon’s Animal House,” a movie spoof about 1960s college fraternities, starring John Belushi, opens in U.S. theaters. “Animal House” became a huge box-office hit, spawned a slew of cinematic imitations and became part of pop-culture history.

• On July 29, 1967, a fire on the USS Forrestal stationed off the coast of Vietnam kills 134 service members. The deadly fire on the Navy carrier began with the accidental launch of an F-4 Phantom-jet rocket, which hit a parked A-4 Skyhawk jet.

• On July 30, 1619, in Jamestown, Virginia, the first elected legislative assembly in the New World – the House of Burgesses – convenes in the choir of the town’s church. Its first laws included prohibitions against gambling, drunkenness and idleness. Sabbath observance was made mandatory.

• On July 31, 1937, Charles Martine, an Apache scout who played an important role in the surrender of Geronimo, dies on the Mescalero Reservation in New Mexico.

• On Aug. 1, 1981, “MTV: Music Television” goes on the air for the first time, with the words “Ladies and gentlemen, rock and roll.” The Buggles’ “Video Killed the Radio Star” was the first music video on the new cable TV channel.

(c) 2021 Hearst Communications, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

3	×	8	-	9	15
+		-		÷
4	+	1	×	3	15
×		+		+
2	×	5	+	7	17
14		12		10

Send Your Newsbrief To:
wtxcc@wtxcc.com

– Photo courtesy Anthony ISD

COLLEGE BOUND – Valedictorian Dasseny Arreola is heading to Rice University in Houston and salutatorian Marissa Lerma is staying closer to home attending New Mexico State University in Las Cruces

Friends

From Page 1

between us. I always saw it as we're doing good. We're doing our best. We work as hard as we can," Lerma said.

"Instead of being one and two, I always saw it as being together, right next to each other," Arreola said.

The girls met when they were five years old. Their families live one house apart.

Lerma and Arreola consider their friendship a strong support system that helped them accomplish their academic goals, but being in the top 10 was a goal inspired by their families.

"My mom got pregnant

when she was 16 and she gave birth to me when she was 17. Despite that, she beat teenage pregnancy statistics and has her master's degree now. My dad joined the ARMY to support us and was deployed twice, doing two tours in Iraq. He came back and got his bachelor's degree. He's also two credits away from his master's degree," Arreola said.

"When they were my age, they were going through completely different things, but they still got their college educations which was very inspiring to me," Arreola said.

Lerma was motivated by watching her older brother's graduation. She recalls asking her parents why some students were dressed in white and learning the reason was because they worked extra hard to have outstanding grades.

"I remember telling myself that graduating in the top 10 is what I wanted to do. I didn't care what number it was as long as I was in white," Lerma said.

As their post high school graduation summer comes to an end, the girls are cherishing their last months living in the same community.

Arreola plans to attend Rice University in Houston, Texas while Lerma is scheduled to attend New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, New Mexico.

"I hope this friendship can

See FRIENDS, Page 7

San Elizario ISD teachers receive $9,000 in grants

By Jeannie Meza-Chavez
Special to the Courier

SAN ELIZARIO – Nine teachers San Elizario ISD (SEISD) have received a combined $9,000 worth of supplies. Each of the teachers visited theclassroomfund.org to apply for the grants from Classroom Fund. "It warms my heart to see how many of our educators were awarded the Classroom Fund. Exciting times are ahead as we see the resources used to educate our students. It truly does take a village and we are grateful for the generosity of the El Paso Community Foundation," said Borrego Elementary School Principal Teresa Wilks.

Each teacher was awarded $1,000 worth of supplies to utilize with students. They are:

- Music teacher Kevin Elizalde, Alfonso Borrego, Sr. Elementary School (ABSES);
- Special Education teacher Lorena Mendoza, ABSES;
- Special Education teacher Krystal Mijares, ABSES;
- At-risk teacher Ruth Ramirez, ABSES;
- Counselor Nora Garcia, Lorenzo Alarcón Elementary School (LAES);
- Special Education teacher Johanna Gonzalez-Frias, LAES;
- Librarian Blanca Guerrero, LAES;
- Counselor Theresa Garay, Garcia-Enriquez Middle School (GEMS); and
- Art teacher Myriam Sanchez, GEMS.

"We are proud of our faculty and staff for advocating for the needs of our students and taking the time to go above and beyond to seek out resources. Our campus will benefit from their dedication and commitment to the success of our students," said Ann Garcia-Enriquez Middle School Principal Richard Salcido.

Come in to Conviva where we focus on helping you Age Well.

The Provider of Choice

Over more than 50 years, we've developed a reputation as a leader in senior healthcare.* That's why — year after year — patients continue to choose Conviva.

We help you Age Well so you can Live Well

Your most trusted primary care partner

Primary care for seniors like you

Call (844) 208-6974 today for a tour or visit MeetConviva.com

We accept a variety of Medicare Advantage plans.
*Primary Care Research, conducted on behalf of Conviva by Burke, Inc. 2020/2021

@ConvivaCareCenters

@ConvivaCare

Classified Ads

LEGALS

Village of Vinton, Texas

PUBLIC NOTICE

DUE TO HEALTH AND SAFETY CONCERNS RELATED TO THE COVID-19 VIRUS all Village of Vinton Public Meetings will be conducted virtually through the zoom.us platform until further notices. This is in accordance with the Texas Attorney General's guidance temporarily suspending certain provisions of the Texas Open Meetings Act that allows for telephonic or videoconference meetings. The procedure for joining the meeting by telephone or computer using Zoom will be posted on the Village of Vinton website (vintontx.gov/office2.com). Scroll down the Village of Vinton homepage and select the meeting for a PDF containing the instructions, links, and access numbers. Each meeting has a distinct link and access numbers.

A public hearing will be held at 6:30p.m. on Monday, August 16th 2021, during the Planning & Zoning Commission Meeting at the Vinton Village Hall, 436 E. Vinton Rd., Vinton, Texas.

A second public hearing will be held at 6:30p.m. on Thursday, August 19th 2021, during the Planning & Zoning Commission Meeting at the Vinton Village Hall, 436 E. Vinton Rd., Vinton, Texas.

A third public hearing will be held at 6:30p.m. on Tuesday, August 24th, 2021, during the Special City Council Meeting at the Vinton Village Hall, 436 E. Vinton Rd. Vinton, Texas.

The purpose of the public hearing is to allow any interested persons to appear and testify regarding the following proposed item:

1) Consider and take action on a request for a Special Use Permit on 411 Rancho Estancias, Vinton, Texas 79821, for the purpose of a mobile home placement.

Citizens unable to attend this meeting may submit their views and proposals to Andrea Nichole Carrillo, Village Administrator at the City Hall. Persons with disabilities that wish to attend this meeting should contact City Hall at (915)886-5104 to arrange for assistance. Individuals who require auxiliary aids or services for this meeting should contact City Hall at least two days before the meeting so that appropriate arrangements can be made.

Andrea N. Carrillo
Village Administrator

WTCC: 07-29-21

College sports are changing fast... maybe too fast

By Steve Escajeda
Special to the Courier

For over 100 years American big-time sports has been separated into two categories, professional and amateur.

The NCAA was established in 1906 under the original name of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the United States and it was initially founded to reform the rules and regulations of college sports.

As the years went on, the organization added tons of restrictions and re-definitions of what they defined a "student athlete" as.

Among some of the rules instituted by the NCAA were that student athletes had to pass their classes in order to play, they had to stay with the school they originally signed up with, they couldn't turn pro until they graduated and they couldn't work, earn or accept a penny while they were under scholarship.

For the student back then, it was a win-win; they walked away with either a pro contract or a college degree.

Of course, back then, the NCAA wasn't the billion-dollar corporation it is today with money coming in from TV rights, marketing deals and ticket sales.

Players, coaches, agents, boosters, parents, apparel companies, athletic directors and even college presidents have been more than willing to corrupt the system in order to steer some of that money their way.

Since the lines between pro and amateur status have become so blurred, the new NCAA rules have made it almost impossible to tell the difference.

College athletes can leave college early now to go pro, they've virtually become free agents by being able to enter the transfer portal and go to another school, and now they can make money from any company willing to pay them to promote their product.

And being a staunch capitalist, I agree with the idea of letting an athlete make money from the organizations that are making millions off of them.

But there's a big problem on the horizon. This money grab is going to be allowed to go on with almost no rules or regulations.

It seems like every state is coming up with their own version of the "paying athletes" plan. There are absolutely no limits as to how much money a player can receive.

Check out young Bryce Young. The Alabama football team reports their new quarterback – who only threw one touchdown pass as a freshman last season – has already made over a million dollars in endorsement deals.

He is one of many players already profiting from the new rule.

But how long will it take for the other non-star players on the team that aren't making a penny from the new deal to resent their new millionaire teammates when the stars drive into practice in his new BMW?

At least in the pros, everybody gets paid. But with college the corporations and local businesses will only call the best players on the team.

The big schools will distance themselves even more from mid-level schools because they have the biggest spending business partners on their side.

All they have to do is convince a high school star to go to their school because there will be big bucks waiting for them there.

There's even talk about schools making the shift to bigger conferences because of the huge dollars they can rake in. Texas and Oklahoma just announced that they are moving from the Big 12 to the SEC.

This is going to create an avalanche of other teams jumping on this opportunity.

Another problem is going to be the corruption.

If you think there was fraud and deceit when it was against the rules to pay players, just wait and see how the system will be manipulated now.

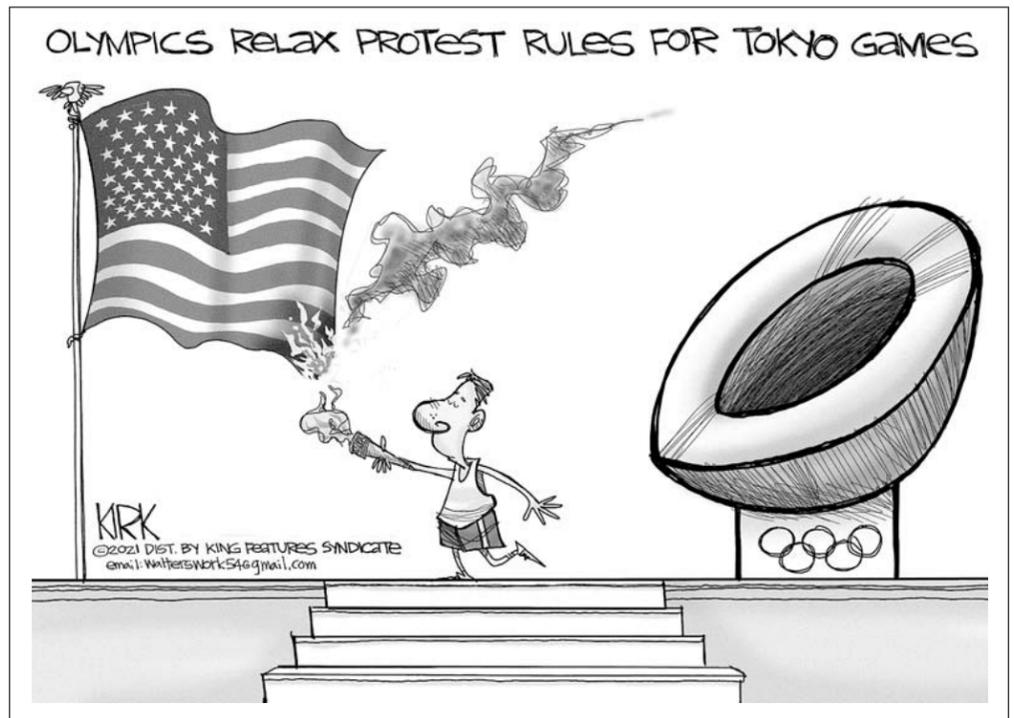

Rich schools will now steal athletes from other schools by simply offering them more money.

All of this is going to lead to complete chaos. The NCAA will crumble and conferences and schools will make up their own rules and standards.

It won't be very long before many college athletes make more money than the pros.

The Dallas Cowboys had 23 players who made less than $1 million a year ago.

It used to be that we would ask a college player if he was leaving to go pro for the money. Don't be surprised if we start asking some professionals if they are considering going back to college for the money.

Super Crossword

ALTERNATING NAMES ACROSS

- 1 Trapped
- 8 Moderately slow tempo
- 15 Hot coal
- 20 Left over
- 21 Velvet
- Underground singer
- 22 Myanmar, previously
- 23 * "Chicago" poet who worked for a rival of Revlon?
- 25 Vital liquid
- 26 Pitcher _ Nomo
- 27 Big joint
- 28 Antique auto
- 30 Furry Oz visitor
- 31 More like baking bread's smell
- 34 * 2003 "American Idol" runner-up from Alberta?
- 39 Like Hindi or Urdu
- 41 Many a youth
- 42 Soup sample
- 43 * Reply when the crooner of "Honey" asked how he should criticize people?
- 48 The Fate who cut the thread of destiny
- 52 Pitti Palace's river
- 53 Gladys Knight & the Pips' "I've Got to _ Imagination"
- 54 Like an obsessed mind

- 55 A whole lot
- 57 * "Go take a nap, you Bolshevik leader"?
- 61 Dig up
- 63 Range ropes
- 64 Emmy winner
- Michaels
- 65 What each guy who's an answer to a starred clue is? [hint: skip over the even letters in his first name]
- 69 _ diem!"
- 74 Ate into
- 75 "180 illegal" road sign
- 77 * Gets hold of the singer of "(Sittin' on) The Dock of the Bay"?
- 85 Got closer to
- 86 Pungent red roots
- 87 Din
- 89 Spanish body of water
- 90 Many private planes
- 91 * Novelist of "Humboldt's Gift" imitating a beach bird?
- 95 Chaney of "The Trap"
- 96 Certain peer
- 97 "McSorley's Bar" painter John
- 98 * Co-star of "Neighbors" with a Seussian Star-Belly?
- 103 Conjecturer's words
- 108 Is unwell

- 109 Anvil setting
- 110 401(k) kin
- 112 Many a youth
- 113 Flood control
- 115 * 20-season Houston Astros player who was a hot rodder?
- 121 Big blue expanse
- 122 Worked, as dough
- 123 Garage door gadgets
- 124 Aeries, e.g.
- 125 Veterans
- 126 Co-star of HBO's "Insecure"

DOWN

- 1 Restless
- 2 "I'm serious!"
- 3 Came _ (burrito fill)
- 4 Is like a mole
- 5 Like salivary glands near ears
- 6 Gold, to Luis
- 7 _ Aviv
- 8 Jai _
- 9 Like Macs
- 10 Film bomb
- 11 Wall St. operator
- 12 Not old, in Ulm
- 13 Earthing, in sci-fi
- 14 Lawn tidier
- 15 Dwindle
- 16 Like PCs with several peripheral hookup points
- 17 Small stream
- 18 Overact
- 19 Cellar gas

- 24 Dwindle
- 29 Pearl holders
- 32 Smitten erotically
- 33 Big name in ice cream
- 35 121-Across off Va.
- 36 Spike in film
- 37 "Is that so!"
- 38 _-surface missile
- 40 Short negligee, for short
- 43 Dufy of art
- 44 University city in Maine
- 45 Fewer than
- 46 Actor Lloyd
- 47 Soap stuff
- 48 Basketballer Jamison
- 49 Faux _
- 50 Doc _ (foe of Spidey)
- 51 Big blue expanse
- 54 Savvy about
- 56 Prior to
- 58 "Judge _" (1995 film)
- 59 Crude fluid
- 60 Retail store starter?
- 62 Stable group
- 66 Diana of "West 11"
- 67 Ike's initials
- 68 Grazed (on)
- 69 Acting nudge
- 70 The tiniest bit
- 71 Pastoral
- 72 Rival of Ragu
- 73 Bequeath
- 74 Embellish

- 76 Barely there phone signal
- 77 Frodo foe
- 78 Sweetie, in modern lingo
- 79 Eagles' stats
- 80 Non-window flight request
- 81 Ain't correct?
- 82 Gerund suffix
- 83 We, to Henri
- 84 Anderson of "The X-Files"
- 88 Trough food
- 91 _ Paulo
- 92 Unit of work
- 93 London beer
- 94 Foes
- 96 Wayward
- 98 Beauty shop
- 99 Family girl
- 100 Santas' aides
- 101 Taxi drivers
- 102 Not as nasty
- 104 _ petition
- 105 Felix played by Randall
- 106 Kelly of "One Tree Hill"
- 107 Irregularly notched
- 111 Clears (of)
- 114 USN off.
- 116 "Citizen X" co-star
- 117 Sleazy paper
- 118 Lemon drink
- 119 "... grace of God _"
- 120 Med. stats. taken with arm cuffs

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20							21							22
23							24							25
26							27					28	29	30
31							32	33			34	35	36	37			38
				39					40		41				42
43	44	45	46						47				48			49	50	51
52							53						54
55					56			57			58	59	60
61							62				63
64							65	66	67	68					69	70	71	72	73
							74							75	76
77	78	79	80	81							82	83	84		85
86											87			88			89
90									91	92	93					94
98	99	100						101				102		103			104	105	106	107
108								109				110	111						112
113																	119	120
121
124

Comix

OUT ON A LIMB By Gary Kopervas

AMBER WAVES By Dave T. Phipps

THE SPATS By Jeff Pickering

R.F.D. By Mike Marland

TIGER By Bud Blake

Friends

From Page 5

Arreola said. "I envision her next to me at my wedding if I ever get married," Lerma said. For Arreola, leaving her hometown makes the college transition extra emotional. "I love Anthony. This school is my everything. The band is my everything. It will definitely be a journey," Arreola said. Arreola plans to major in English with a pre-law track. Lerma will major in Biology. Both Wildcats plan to stay in touch and see each other during their breaks.

stay well into our adulthood. I know most of your friends are made when you're in college, but Marissa is the exception,"

Fuentes

From Page 1

"Dr. Maria Fuentes brings her diverse background as a healthcare executive, health economist, physician, and health policy expert to Canutillo ISD," said Superintendent Dr. Pedro Galaviz. "With 10 years of experience in health care as a practitioner, medical authority, and now as a researcher make

What is treatment for a fatty liver?

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a 77-year-old woman. I am 5 feet, 2 inches tall and weigh 107 pounds. I take no medication. When I went to the doctor last week, he found that my alkaline phosphatase was 176, my ALT 10, and my AST 11. He told me I had fatty liver and to get a scan, but I had no way to get to the place to have it done. He did not say anything else about it. I have no symptoms. Does this sound like fatty liver to you? I did not really like my doctor, but with my insurance it is hard to change doctors. If I do have fatty liver, is there anything I can do for it? – J.F.

Fatty liver is an increasingly common problem. Risk factors include being overweight and having diabetes, high blood pressure and abnormal blood cholesterol levels. Alcohol use is also a cause of fatty liver, and all people with fatty liver are strongly recommended to abstain from alcohol entirely. The primary treatment is diet and weight loss.

It sounds like there was some missed communication between you and your doctor. Fatty liver is a possibility; however, it does not seem likely to me, as you have not identified any of the risk factors, and you are certainly not overweight (if anything, you are a bit underweight). Further, although the alkaline phosphatase can be elevated in fatty liver (yours is just a bit high), it is more common for AST and ALT to be elevated, which yours are not.

An ultrasound scan is a good, but not definitive, way of looking for fatty liver. A liver biopsy is still the definitive test, but it's often not done in people whose history, physical exam and ultrasound are all suggestive.

A slightly abnormal alkaline phosphatase does not necessarily mean you have a liver problem. Bone issues (fractures, Paget's disease of bone, high thyroid and parathyroid hormone levels) can cause a high alkaline phosphatase, too. Additional liver tests – checking the GGT level or specifically what kind of alkaline phosphatase you have (by isoenzyme analysis) – can make the source of the elevated alkaline phosphatase clearer.

Getting an ultrasound scan and additional blood tests is a reasonable place to start. Unfortunately, lack of confidence in your physician is a different problem. If you really can't get a new doctor, then you need to have a conversation about proceeding with evaluation in such a way that you can do so while being confident that you are getting good advice.

DEAR DR. ROACH: A few years ago, I read that the herbal supplement feverfew may help with some migraines. Having suffered with severe migraine for over 50 years, I decided to try it. I take one capsule four times a day, and it has completely rid me of my migraines. Would you please mention it again? – B.J.F.

Feverfew is a common herbal remedy to prevent migraine, and although not all trials have shown benefit, the majority of studies I have read showed that it is more effective than a placebo and the side effect risk is very small. Other nonprescription treatments that have been shown in most studies to be beneficial include magnesium, riboflavin and coenzyme Q10. They are generally safe and well-tolerated, and I hope others may get the same relief you have found.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual questions, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu. (c) 2021 North America Synd., Inc. All Rights Reserved.

her a valuable asset to our team," he continued. She is now pursuing her Ph.D. in Interdisciplinary Health Sciences, also at UTEP, studying the different factors that impact vaccine hesitancy among the Hispanic population. She is a strong advocate for the autism community and always looking to assist her community by looking for new educational opportunities, and programs that support the arts for people with different abilities. Parents can visit www.canutillo-isd.org for current information on back-to-school opening safety protocols for the upcoming school year.

